HAMILTON COUNTY

Regional Planning
Commission

Local Government Services

The Hamilton County Regional Planning Commission

(RPC) is an alliance of local planning commissions and governments that seeks to address mutual goals related to physical, economic, and social issues among the 49 communities within Hamilton County. RPC helps ensure that community trends are anticipated, challenges are addressed, priorities are focused, and our collective future is planned and achieved strategically.

Membership

Community membership in the Hamilton County Regional Planning Commission is on an annual basis. Payment establishes joint membership in both the Hamilton County Regional Planning Commission and the Planning Partnership, and enables professional staff services for member jurisdictions.

Local Government Services

RPC staff offers community planning and implementation assistance to local government members at reduced rates. Our services are designed to strengthen communities and build implementation capacity while minimizing costs and improving service quality. We provide professional assistance in the following areas:

Community Building

- Land use and comprehensive plans
- Strategic and action plans
- Community visioning
- Community workshops and charrettes
- Community asset mapping and asset development
- Committee support and capacity building
- Group facilitation and consensus building
- Situational assessments
- Community organizing and revitalization

Technical Support

- GIS mapping and analysis
- Graphics and media production
- Data mining and analysis
- Database development
- Census analysis and reports
- Research and reports
- Grant applications
- Website support
- Planning commissioner training and certification

Development Review and Administration

- Street address assignment and administration
- Subdivision review and administration
- Zoning certificate administration
- Zoning code updates
